

Baron

Baron is an Action card from Intrigue. Keeping with the “Victory cards” theme in Intrigue, Baron adds a way to get use out of Estates. It is a good opening for getting an early 6 or even 7, and can be a good source of gold when you build an engine that draws your whole deck including your starting estates.

Minion

Minion is an Action-Attack card from Intrigue. It can be played either for 2 or to draw 4 cards; thus, it works great with Action cards which give gold and Actions. Since Minion itself is such a card, the self-synergy makes an engine consisting of mostly Minions quite powerful in 2-player games where it's feasible to get 6-8 Minions.

Ambassador

Ambassador is an Action-Attack card from Seaside. When played, it lets you return up to 2 copies of a card from your hand to the supply, and makes all opponents gain a copy of that card; it clears out your deck like a trasher while filling your opponents' decks with junk. It is an extremely powerful opening when setting up an engine in a 2-player game; in the late game, it can even be used as a Curser if you are willing to buy a Curse for it to use.

Tribute

Tribute is an Action card from the first edition of Intrigue. It gives you a variable bonus depending on the top 2 cards of an opponent's deck; this bonus can range from extremely weak, if your opponent reveals two identical Treasures or Victory cards, to extremely strong, if your opponent reveals a Nobles and a Harem. Tribute is a difficult card to use because of its unpredictability, and it works best with dual-type cards.

Mine

Mine is an Action card from the Base set. It is a trash for benefit card which allows you to trash your Coppers to gain Silvers and trash your Silvers to gain Golds. It can also trash and gain other Kingdom treasures. Since it gains the treasures directly to your hand, you get to use it immediately, and you get the benefit of the improved treasure for the rest of the game. Mine is best when you have a way to play it often or when there are other treasures besides Silver and Gold that you want.
